NEW ZEALAND MARITIME MUSEUM

www.maritimemuseum.co.nz

We provide a fascinating glimpse into our wonderful relationship with the sea as explorers and every day New Zealanders. With a team of passionate and knowledgeable staff and volunteers, we share New Zealand's history and inspirational stories throughout our extensive galleries and on-water experiences.

Our on water based experience is climbing aboard on one of our heritage vessels for a one hour Auckland Harbour sailing experience with knowledgeable crew. Ted Ashby is a ketch-rigged deck scow, typical of the fleet of scows that once operated in northern New Zealand waters.

Built by Museum staff and volunteers in the traditional manner, she was launched in August 1993. Situated in Auckland's vibrant Viaduct Harbour.

Conference delegate offer $20.00pp. It includes Auckland Harbour Sailing and Museum entry.
